Science

Over the half term, we will predict and explain how the temperature of each planet varies and consider which plants could potentially host life. We will also consider how the distance from a light source affects how much lights hits the object. As well as this, we will consider if having more moons equates to more light.

Maths

Our maths learning will begin with geometry, comparing and classifying geometric shapes as well as finding unknown angles. We will then be solving problems around decimal, fraction and percentage equivalents. Finally, we will revise all four operations to ensure we are accurate when using formal written methods.
